

This collect for the beginning of the school year and a blessing for the spaces and devices we're using for learning is by the Rev. Aaron Klinefelter, Rector of St. Jude's Episcopal Church, Cupertino, CA:

O God, who caused all space to be and created all things. Be present with us in these new spaces we use for distance learning. Bless and empower us as we use new technologies and devices for online learning. Give us patience with the process and with the technology as we seek to learn, grow, and expand our minds and perspectives of this world you love so much. In the name of the one who is present, even when we are distant, Amen.

Best wishes for your health and peace,

Katy
